Foreword

The CEN/CENELEC Internal Regulations serve the purpose of detailing the implementation of identified Articles of the CEN Statutes and CENELEC Articles of Association.

The CEN/CENELEC Internal Regulations Part 1 are divided into three different chapters and annexes to reflect those elements that are specific for CEN and CENELEC and those other organizational aspects that are common to both associations.

1A: CEN

1. Scope of CEN activities

CEN is a European Standardization Organization, operating within the framework of EU Regulation 1025/2012 whose members are joint-producers and disseminators of market-driven European Standards (ENs) that serve the needs of business, industry and other interested parties.

CEN fulfils its purpose (see Article 5 of the CEN Statutes) through the following means:

- Use of a shared standards development process based on an effective and efficient infrastructure capable of delivering and maintaining market-relevant standards that achieve Europe-wide consensus through the principle of national delegation;

And in particular, through:

- Harmonization of national standards published by CEN Members;
- Promotion and prioritization of the development of standards within ISO and the adoption and implementation of ISO standards;
- Preparation of homegrown European Standards (EN) only when justified by European market needs;
- Adoption of European Standards at national level and withdrawal of any conflicting national standards;
- Support for world-wide standardization and promotion of European participation in the work of ISO.
- Provision of an interface to the European industrial associations, European Union institutions and the European Free Trade Association (EFTA);
- Cooperation with CENELEC and the European Telecommunications Standards Institute (ETSI), when appropriate.

2. CEN organization

This provision refers to Art. 6 of the CEN statutes

CEN is composed of:

- The national Members;
- Three Governing bodies:
 - The General Assembly, the supreme Governing body of CEN;
 - The Administrative Board, who has broadest powers to direct and administer CEN;
 - The Presidential Committee, the joint Governing body with CENELEC, who manages and administers the business of CEN with respect to non-sector specific matters of common interest with CENELEC.
- The Officers of the association:
 - The President and the President Elect;
 - Three Vice-Presidents with competence on policy, financial and technical matters;
 - Nine ordinary Administrative Board members;

CEN/CENELEC Internal Regulations Part 1:2017

- The Director General.
- Other bodies able to support the achievement of the scope of CEN:
 - The Technical Board;
 - The Technical Committees;
 - The CEN Certification Board.
- The CEN-CENELEC Management Centre, who has an active role in the day-to-day management of CEN and is headed by the Director General.

3. General Assembly

3.1 Annual ordinary and statutory meetings of the General Assembly

This provision refers to Art. 11 of the CEN statutes

Annual ordinary General Assembly meeting

One ordinary General Assembly is convened by the President each year between April and September to deliberate on matters as requested by Belgian law, notably on financial matters, and to elect the President and Vice-Presidents. This Assembly is normally associated with an open annual meeting, which may be organized jointly with CENELEC.

Statutory General Assembly meeting

Within the same year, a statutory General Assembly is convened by the President, between October and December, to deliberate on any matter relevant to the scope of the association and to elect CEN Officers other than the President and Vice-Presidents in accordance with the CEN Statutes.

Organizational modalities

Meetings of all General Assemblies are arranged by the Director General on the instructions of the Administrative Board.

Agenda and main documents

The Administrative Board decides upon, establishes and sets up the agendas of the General Assembly meetings.

The agenda and the main documents are circulated by the Director General to the national Members one month prior to the meeting for decision matters and two weeks for information matters. However, the Director General may also invite the General Assembly to consider and take decisions on matters of which documents have been circulated beyond the deadlines established.

Invitations

Representatives of national standard bodies having the status of CEN Affiliates, of the European Institutions, EFTA, CENELEC, ETSI, ISO, as well as any other relevant partners and guests of CEN, are invited as observers, with no voting rights, to attend the annual ordinary General Assembly that takes place between April and September.

Attendance at the statutory General Assembly meeting convened between October and December is normally reserved exclusively for the national Members of CEN. However, the President may decide to invite selected guests when their attendance and contribution is relevant for the debate and decisions of the General Assembly.

The candidate member for hosting the CEN General Assembly meeting, other CEN annual meetings or any other technical or non-technical meeting, should give special consideration to avoiding any barriers to participation of representatives from other members.

When appropriate, in order to allow the concerned governing or technical body to take an informed decision on this matter, the candidate member for hosting the event is invited to provide all necessary information regarding visa requirements and visa application procedures that may be required for the participants coming from other CEN member countries.

3.2 Extraordinary meetings of the General Assembly

This provision refers to Art. 11.2 and 11.5 of the CEN statutes

Organizational modalities

The President must convene an extraordinary General Assembly within one month of a request received from at least one fifth of the CEN national Members acting jointly in accordance with Art. 11.2 of the CEN statutes.

The agenda and the main documents are circulated by the Director General to the Members at least 10 days prior to the meeting.

Attendance and exceptional invitations of observers

Extraordinary General Assemblies are attended only by the CEN national Members. However, in exceptional circumstances the President may invite guests to the meeting as observers when their attendance and contribution are relevant for the debate and decisions of the General Assembly.

Proxies and proceedings

Requirements on proxies and written proceedings shall follow the same rules as those established for the ordinary General Assembly meetings.

3.3 Decisions of the General Assembly by secret ballot

This provision refers to Art. 12 of the CEN statutes

Usually decisions at the General Assembly meetings are taken with open votes. Elections of CEN Officers may take place with vote by secret ballot; however, the President may at any time invite the Assembly to elect one or more CEN Officers by acclamation.

There shall be a vote by secret ballot on questions related to individuals, if at least two national Members request it.

4. Administrative Board and its Consultative Committees

4.1 Delegation of authority

This provision refers to Art. 10 and Art. 13.3 of the CEN statutes

The Administrative Board has delegated authority to manage the technical work of the association. To this purpose, the Administrative Board is regularly informed by the Vice-President Technical on the main decisions taken by the Technical Board and it can take decisions aimed at providing guidance to the Technical Board on any relevant technical matters having implications on the scope and activities of the association.

4.2 Meetings of the Administrative Board

This provision refers to Art. 15 of the CEN statutes

The Administrative Board normally meet three times a year in connection with the Presidential Committee and/or the General Assembly. An Administrative Board meeting dedicated to budgetary and statutory financial matters takes place before the ordinary General Assembly convened each year to deliberate on those matters as requested by the Belgian legislation.

Dates and places of Administrative Board meetings are normally determined by the President or by the Administrative Board itself and timely communicated to all Officers of the Administrative Board by the Director General.

The President decides upon the agenda of the meeting of the Board he/she convenes.

The agenda of the Administrative Board shall reflect policy, operational and managerial matters of CEN, whereas any common CEN-CENELEC non-sector specific policy and strategic issues are handled by the Presidential Committee, as specified in the IR Part 1C.

The agenda and the main documents are circulated by the Director General to the Administrative Board one month prior to the meeting for decision matters and two weeks for information matters. However, the Director General may also invite the Administrative Board to consider and take decisions on matters of which documents have been circulated beyond the deadlines established.

4.3 Election of Officers of the Administrative Board

This provision refers to Art. 14, Art. 20.2 and Art. 21.1 of the CEN statutes

The President is elected by simple majority vote. His/her one-year period of running-in as President Elect starts on January 1st of the year following the election. The President commences his/her term of office on January 1st of the second year following the election.

The Vice-Presidents and ordinary Administrative Board members are all elected by the General Assembly by simple majority vote for a term of office commencing on January 1st of the year following their election.

In case of a vacancy in the Administrative Board, be this due to Officer removal, resignation, death or declared incapacity, the General Assembly proceeds to the election of a new Officer of the Administrative Board upon nominations by the CEN national Members. In such cases, the Assembly may decide that the new Officer starts his/her term of office immediately after the election and for a term of office that may be longer than the usual duration.

Proceeding for the elections of President, Vice-Presidents and ordinary Administrative Board members

Unless otherwise decided by the General Assembly, the election of Vice-Presidents precedes the election of ordinary Administrative Board members. Elections are normally organized according to the following process:

- Three months prior to the ordinary or statutory General Assembly meeting, the Director General informs the national Members on the expected vacant seats for President and/or Vice-President(s) and/or ordinary Administrative Board members for the following year, and invites them to provide their nominations of candidate(s) by a set deadline.
- One month prior to the ordinary or statutory General Assembly meeting, the Director General informs the General Assembly on the candidate(s) for the vacant seats nominated by the national Members.
- The ordinary or statutory General Assembly meeting elects the President, Vice-President(s) and/or ordinary Administrative Board members among the nominated candidate(s).

Establishment of the Administrative Board

For the purpose of the establishment of the Administrative Board, national Members are allocated in three groups (A, B and C) according to their combined financial and technical contribution to the association calculated on the basis of the following weighted criteria:

a) Financial criteria:

- The % of annual membership fees paid by each national Member calculated on the total amount of annual fees paid by all national Members;
- This individual % is then weighted by 50%.

b) Technical criteria:

- The % corresponding to the number of secretariats of Technical Committees held by each national Member calculated on the total number of Technical Committees held by all national Members;
- This individual % is then weighted by 50%.

The composition of the groups is as follows:

- Group A comprises four national Members;
- Group B comprises ten national Members;
- Group C comprises all other national Members.

The calculation enabling the allocation of the national Members into the three groups according to the above weighted criteria is described in Annex 1 to these Internal Regulations.

The twelve Officers of the Administrative Board, comprising three Vice-Presidents and nine ordinary Administrative Board members, are allocated as follows:

- four are elected upon nomination from the national Members of group A;
- four are elected upon nomination from the national Members of group B;
- four are elected upon nomination from the national Members of group C.

Should the national Members of a group not be able to provide nominations for the vacant seat of an ordinary Administrative Board member attributed to such group, this vacant seat is filled de jure by the non-elected candidate from any of the two other groups who has received the most votes in the election process at the General Assembly meeting in which the vacant seat was due to be filled.

4.4 Consultative Committees of the Administrative Board

This provision refers to Art. 21 of the CEN statutes

The Administrative Board may take the decision to set up Consultative Committees and other advisory groups in areas where the need to get support from dedicated experts is identified, such as financial and policy issues.

CEN Consultative Committees are normally chaired by a Vice-President (see also subclauses 6.2.1 and 6.2.2). They are composed of representatives of the national Members.

The Terms of Reference of the Administrative Board Consultative Committees dealing with policy and international relations (CACC POL) and with CEN finance (CACC FIN) are annexed to the present Internal Regulations (Annexes 2 and 3).

CEN/CENELEC Internal Regulations Part 1:2017

When needed, the Chair may invite CEN partner organizations and stakeholders to attend the meetings of the Consultative Committees as observers.

Advisory groups are normally chaired by an appointed Chairman nominated by the Administrative Board. The number of members may vary according to the topic and the Terms of Reference of the advisory group.

Annex 1

Methodology for establishing the Administrative Board composition

For the purpose of the establishment of the Administrative Board composition, national Members are allocated in three groups (A, B and C) according to their combined financial and technical contribution to the association calculated on the basis of the following weighted criteria:

Financial criteria:

- The % of annual membership fees paid by each national Member calculated on the total amount of annual fees paid by all national Members;
- This individual % is then weighted by 50%.

Technical criteria:

- The % corresponding to the number of secretariats of Technical Committees held by each national Member calculated on the total number of Technical Committees held by all national Members;
- This individual % is then weighted by 50%.

The methodology of calculation is summarized in the following table:

NSB	Financial unit	as per membership fee calculation table in CEN-CLC Guide 21		Nbr of TC secretariat	TC secretariat contribution @ 100%	Financial contribution @ 50%	TC secretariat contribution @ 50%	Total contribution	#	Group
		Financial contribution @ 100%
	(1)	(3) = (1) / (2)	(4)	(6) = (4) / (5)	(7) = (3) * 50%	(8) = (6) * 50%	= (7) + (8)
XXX									...	either A
YYY									...	or B
ZZZ									...	or C
		-	0,00%	-	0,00%	0,00%	0,00%	0,00%
		(2)		(5)

Group A

The 4 national Members ranking with the highest total technical and financial contributions.

Group B

The following 10 national Members ranking from 5 to 14 of the total technical and financial contributions.

Group C

All other national Members.

Ranking based on total % contribution	Group	Maximum number of Board seats per Group
1 to 4	Group A	4
5 to 14	Group B	4
15 and above	Group C	4
		TOTAL = 12

CEN/CENELEC Internal Regulations Part 1:2017

If a CEN national Member raises its technical or financial contribution so as to eventually result in a higher ranking compared with the last national Member of the group above (from Group C to B or from Group B to A), then the last national Member of the group above is automatically retroceded to the Group below.

Similarly, if a CEN national Member diminishes its technical or financial contribution so as to eventually result in a lower ranking compared with the highest CEN national Member of the group below (from Group A to B or from Group B to C), then the highest national Member of the group below is automatically upgraded to the Group above.

Should a Member be forced to resign for imperious reasons before the end of his/her two-year mandate term, the CEN member to which this CACC FIN Member belongs will be invited by CCMC to propose a new candidate to take over his/her predecessor's mandate to complete the term. The proposed candidate will need to meet the profile criteria as outlined above.

Should the CEN member decline the invitation, CCMC will invite the CEN members who do not already have a member in CACC FIN to propose their candidate according to the relevant criteria. If appointed by CEN/AG decision, the new CACC FIN Member will take over his/her predecessor's mandate immediately to complete the term.

6 Term

The Chairman is appointed for a mandate of two years, starting on the 1st January of the following year to his/her election as Vice-President Finance.

The two-year mandate can be renewed for one additional term of two years by CEN/AG decision before the new mandate anniversary date.

After his/her mandate(s) of Vice-President Finance, the Vice-President Finance cannot be re-appointed as CACC FIN Member for the immediate next term, unless approved otherwise by the CEN/AG.

1B: CENELEC

1. Scope of CENELEC activities

CENELEC is the European Standardization Organization in the field of electrotechnology and related technologies, facilitating and organizing with the participation of all interested parties.

The purpose of CENELEC (see Article 3 of the Articles of Association) may be realized in particular by the following means:

- Harmonization of national standards published by CENELEC Members;
- Prioritize and promote the development of standards within the International Electrotechnical Commission (IEC) and the implementation of IEC standards;
- Preparation of homegrown European Standards (EN) only when justified by needs in Europe, which are not accepted by the International Electrotechnical Commission (IEC);
- Support world-wide standardization and promote European participation in the International Electrotechnical Commission (IEC);
- Interface to the European industrial associations, European Union institutions and the European Free Trade Association (EFTA);
- Cooperation with the European Committee for Standardization (CEN) and the European Telecommunications Standards Institute (ETSI), where appropriate, in accordance with the IEC activities.

2. CENELEC organization

CENELEC consists of:

- Its Members;
- Its Officers, i.e.:
 - The President,
 - Three Vice-Presidents,
 - The President Elect;
- Its organs, as specified in Art. 5 of the CENELEC Articles of Association, i.e.:
 - The General Assembly,
 - The Administrative Board,
 - The Presidential Committee,
 - The Director General,
 - One or several Auditors;

- The CEN-CENELEC Management Centre;
- The Technical Board (BT), which is mandated by the CENELEC General Assembly to manage the technical standardization (see Internal Regulations Part 2).

Moreover,

- The General Assembly or the Administrative Board may set advisory bodies.
- The President may set up advisory bodies to exchange information with CENELEC members.

3. General Assembly (AG)

The General Assembly (AG) is the supreme authority of CENELEC, where all statutory and general policy decisions are taken. The Ordinary Meetings are taking place annually during the first half of the year and should be attended by a delegation of up to five representatives of each CENELEC Member, led by a Head of Delegation. (See also Articles 12 and 13 of the CENELEC Articles of Association.) The candidate member for hosting the CENELEC General Assembly meeting, other CENELEC annual meetings or any other technical or non-technical meeting, should give special consideration to avoiding any barriers to participation of representatives from other members.

When appropriate, in order to allow the concerned governing or technical body to take an informed decision on this matter, the candidate member for hosting the event is invited to provide all necessary information regarding visa requirements and visa application procedures that may be required for the participants coming from other CENELEC member countries.

4. Administrative Board and its Advisory Bodies

4.1 Administrative Board (CA)

The Administrative Board (CA) manages and administers the Association's business. In addition, it prepares the agendas of the General Assembly, with inclusion of proposed recommendations, and ensures subsequently the correct execution of the decisions taken by the General Assembly. (See also Articles 14, 15 and 16 of the CENELEC Articles of Association.)

The Administrative Board comprises ex officio the CENELEC Officers (i.e. the President, three Vice-Presidents – amongst whom a Vice-President Finance, a Vice-President Policy and a Vice-President Technical – and the President Elect) and up to nine Board members. The members of the Administrative Board are appointed by the General Assembly.

For the purpose of the establishment of the Administrative Board, National Committees are allocated in four groups (A, B, C and D). The methodology for establishing the Administrative Board composition and the indication of the Members' grouping can be found in Annex 1 of these Internal Regulations.

The Officer status is primarily required for representation purposes, i.e. for the President to represent CENELEC, for the Vice-Presidents and the President Elect to represent CENELEC by delegation or instead of the President. The other Board members shall participate in, and contribute to the important tasks entrusted to the Administrative Board. All shall divest themselves from any national viewpoint.

Traditionally, the Administrative Board meets three times per year, one of which is in conjunction with the General Assembly. These meetings are convened by the President. The invitation is accompanied by the agenda of the meeting, decided by the President, and dispatched at least one month beforehand.

4.2 Advisory Bodies of the Administrative Board

The Administrative Board may take the decision to set up advisory bodies or groups in areas where the need to get support from dedicated experts is identified, such as financial and other strategic issues.

The advisory body or group is chaired by the President, President Elect or a Vice-President. The members are representatives of the National Electrotechnical Committees, and occasionally of cooperating partners, and are recruited through an open call. The number of members may vary according to the topic and the terms of reference of the advisory group.

5. Advisory Body to the President – Heads of Delegation Meeting

The President has the authority to invite the Heads of Delegation of the CENELEC Members to exchange information and discuss policy orientation.

As and when such consultation of the CENELEC Membership takes the form of a meeting, this meeting is open to a maximum of two from the President or Head of Delegation and the Secretary of each CENELEC National Committee as well as to the members of the Administrative Board. At the discretion of the President, special guests can be invited. The secretariat duties are normally ensured by the Director General.

6. Cooperation with other organizations

6.1 Partnerships with European organizations

A CENELEC Partner and Liaison organization is an independent European or international European based organization representing, with a sufficient degree of representation within its defined area of competence, a sector or sub sector of the electrotechnical field. Partnership with CENELEC is open to appropriately qualified organizations representing recognized stakeholders from the European Union (EU)/European Free Trade Association (EFTA) countries.

The principles ruling CENELEC partnership with European organizations are laid down in CEN/CENELEC Guide 25 “The concept of partnership with European organizations and other stakeholders”.

6.2 International Electrotechnical Commission (IEC)

In support of the International Electrotechnical Commission (IEC) as the global organization for electrotechnical standardization, CENELEC and IEC have agreed to work in close cooperation for the development and adoption of International Standards. The details of this agreement can be found in CENELEC Guide N° 13 “IEC/CENELEC Cooperation Agreement on common planning of new work and parallel voting” also known as the Dresden Agreement.

Furthermore, CENELEC and IEC have established the Management Coordination Group (MCG), a forum for high-level consultations on matters affecting both organizations. The Terms of Reference of the MCG can be found in Annex 2 of these Internal Regulations.

Annex 1

The methodology of calculation is summarized in the following table:

NC	Financial unit	Financial contribution %	#	Group

The Presidential Committee is a joint corporate body created by the CEN and CENELEC General Assemblies, mandated by the Administrative Boards of both organizations to perform certain functions described hereafter. (See also Article 17 of CEN Statutes and Article 17 of CENELEC Articles of Association.)

In that respect, the Presidential Committee manages and administers the common CEN-CENELEC non-sector specific policy and strategic issues, including:

- Membership issues (potential new members, affiliates, PSB). In accordance with the statutes, all membership issues have to be confirmed by the respective AGs;
- Common strategic issues, e.g.:
 - Innovation & Research;
 - External Relations:
 - with European institutions (EC, EFTA, EP, Council),
 - with organizations representing societal interests (SMEs, consumers, environment, trade unions),
 - with international organizations (ISO, IEC, Regional Standards Organizations, individual countries),
 - with European organizations representing common interests,
 - technical assistance;
- CEN/CENELEC/ETSI Joint Presidents' Group issues and in general issues linked to European standardization strategy;

The Presidential Committee may take the decision to set up advisory bodies or groups in areas where the need to get support from dedicated experts is identified, such as the representation and promotion of the European Standardization System outside Europe and the reinforcement of the interconnection between standardization, research and innovation.

2. CEN-CENELEC Management Centre

The CEN-CENELEC Management Centre is headed by the Director General and comprises such staff as CEN and CENELEC may require to perform the operations of the Associations. The CEN-CENELEC Management Centre is normally located at the same place as the registered office of CEN and CENELEC. (See also Article 25 of CEN Statutes and Article 19 of CENELEC Articles of Association.)

The Director General or his/her staff representative acts in an advisory capacity as the secretary of meetings of CEN and CENELEC such as:

- The General Assemblies;
- The Administrative Boards;
- The Presidential Committee;
- The Technical Boards;
- Committees and other advisory groups set up by these bodies, unless otherwise agreed.

The Director General is responsible for the implementation of decisions of these bodies. The Director General or his/her staff representative is entitled to attend any meeting, which the fulfilment of his/her task makes necessary. The Director General manages the funds of CEN and CENELEC and directs the staff of the CEN-CENELEC Management Centre with all powers to engage or dismiss personnel.

3. Cooperation with other European organizations

3.1 European Commission (EC) and European Free Trade Association (EFTA)

Having regard to the political role the European Commission and EFTA play in European standardization, these two European institutions are invited to participate with observer status in the work of the Associations.

The relationship between CEN and CENELEC on the one side and the European Commission and EFTA on the other is described in CEN/CENELEC Guide 4 "General Guidelines for the cooperation between CEN, CENELEC and ETSI and the European Commission and the European Free Trade Association", and detailed for the contractual aspects in mutually agreed documents.

3.2 European Standardization Organizations

CEN, CENELEC and ETSI are the three recognized European Standardization Organizations according to Regulation (EU) No. 1025/2012 Annex 1. They have agreed to work closely together. This is reflected in the CEN/CENELEC Guide N° 3 "CEN and CENELEC Cooperation Agreement" as well as in the CEN/CENELEC/ETSI Basic Cooperation Agreement.

A CEN/CENELEC/ETSI Joint Presidents' Group acts as a forum for discussion of matters of common interest, fixing lines of demarcation of work where necessary and serving as a basis for consultation of the members on matters affecting all three organizations.

4. Cooperation with standardization bodies not members of CEN and/or CENELEC

4.1 Affiliates

Affiliation with CEN and CENELEC is available to a National Standards Body, which is a member (or corresponding or associate member) of ISO or IEC respectively and which represents or has the ambition to represent all parties concerned in an evolving market economy of a EU Neighbouring Country having links with EU or EFTA in relation to relevant scientific, political and social conditions. Details regarding Affiliates Status are given in the CEN/CENELEC Guide N°12 "The concept of Affiliation with CEN and CENELEC".

4.2 The concept of a Companion Standardization Body with CEN and CENELEC

The status of a Companion Standardization Body (CSB) with CEN and CENELEC is available to a National Standards Body, which is a member (or corresponding or associate member) of ISO or IEC, respectively, and which represents or has the ambition to represent all parties concerned in an evolving market economy of a country which is not eligible for obtaining the status of CEN and/or CENELEC national Member or CEN and/or CENELEC Affiliate. Details regarding the CSB status are given in the CEN-CENELEC Guide 13 "The concept of a Companion Standardization Body with CEN and CENELEC".

4.3 Relations with other standards bodies

An Agreement is offered to any National Standards Body not desiring to become Affiliate or PSB but intent in developing official relations with CEN and/or CENELEC. This model of cooperation may comprise elements such as: exchange of information, transfer of knowledge, cooperation of standardization activities and bodies.

The Memorandum of Understanding is a tool established to start official cooperation relations with recognized Regional Groupings or Third Country National Standards Bodies.
